Speech Department to Present Play as Assembly for College

On November 20 and 21, the Speech Department will present "The Teahouse of the August Moon," in the College auditorium.

John Patrick's comedy smash is based on the novel by Vern Sneider. It is the winner of both the Pulitzer and the Critics Circle awards.

Story of the play concerns the career of an officer in the Army of Occupation stationed in a remote town in Okinawa. The duty of the officer is that of teaching democracy to the natives. A stern and stupid colonel is constantly trying to insure the strict enforcement of the Manual of Occupation.

Officer Is Not Prepared for Charm In a short while it becomes very evident that the young officer has not prepared himself for the ingenuous charm of the native inhabitants. In a few days several interesting events occur.

To start the chain of events, the officer finds himself the recipient of a very strange present—a grade "A" Geisha girl. Next he finds that the materials which were sent to him for the construction of a school are being used to build a teahouse. At his wit's end in an effort to find a way to raise the economy of the remote village, he finally agrees to sell the principal product of the village, which is potato brandy, to the surrounding Army and Navy officers' clubs.

Colonel Inspects

When the day of the gala opening of the teahouse arrives, who should choose that day to make his inspection of the village? None other than the Colonel who, upon seeing the teahouse, explodes.

The officer is almost sure to be court-martialed and the Colonel demoted. But, never underestimate the power of Congress. Just when life is dreariest, word comes that Congress has received reports that this is the most progressive village on the island, and all ends well.

Students to Take Proficiency Tests During Next Week

One week from today at 2:00, the English Proficiency Examinations will be held in the auditorium.

Each second semester sophomore with forty-five hours is required to take the test and will receive a note from the Registrar. A list of students will also be posted.

The assignment will be to compose a theme or article based on a short film.

Five faculty members will read the compositions and the approval of the papers will be the assent of the majority. If any paper should fail to be approved, its author must confer with Dr. Frank Grube about steps to be taken.

Workmen Correct Drainage at Quad

Drainage problems in the showers of the New Quad are now in the process of being corrected through the use of concrete and ceramic tile.

Work started last week as workmen drilled holes through the ledge in front of the showers, a ledge which is supposed to keep the water from running on the floor.

Concrete is to be poured on the floor, thus raising the floor about three inches. The concrete will be slanted toward the hole in front of the shower. This arrangement will channel the water into the drain which is inside the shower. A six-inch ledge will be built to retain the water on the newly constructed floor. The fresh concrete will then be covered with ceramic tile.

Two Officers Will Install Members Of Kappa Chapter

Members of the Kappa chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity, will be formally installed and initiated Friday evening, November 14, in the Union.

Installing officers will be Dr. Georgia Bowman, director of forensics at William Jewell College; and Rev. R. J. Imbs, from Rockhurst, governor of the Missouri Province of Pi Kappa Delta.

Eleven students and four graduates qualify as charter members of Pi Kappa Delta. Graduate charter members are Marjorie Canon, Paul Heavilin, Larry Ramsey, and Joan Setzer. Student charter members are Lawrence Brown, Harlan Larison, William Price, Sandra McMillan, Gary L. Smith, James Taylor, Tom Mooberry, Patricia Murphy, Roger Reith, Wayne Wells, and Robert Sawyer.

Pi Kappa Delta has 185 chapters and 31,000 members in schools and colleges across the country.

Ag Department Is Having More Trips For This Season

Members of the agriculture department are taking advantage of the mild fall weather by adjusting classroom and laboratory schedules to include more field trips.

With excellent weather conditions prevailing, agriculture students have had the opportunity to make a record number of trips up to now. According to F. B. Houghton, of the agriculture staff, plans are being made for even more off-campus studies.

Study Types and Markets

Agriculture students concerned with types and market classes of livestock, beef production, and sheep production have been spending nearly as much time in practical application studies as in classroom work.

Sources for field trip studies have

Faculty Members To Write Articles

Two members of the College faculty have been requested by the editors of the ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA to write articles for the forthcoming edition of the work.

Dr. John Harr, who is head of the social science department, received his request this fall to write on the cities of Savannah and Saint Joseph.

Dr. George Gayler, also a member of the social science staff, was commissioned last spring to cover the Mormon city of Nauvoo, Illinois. The new edition of the encyclopedia will be published sometime next spring.

Class Makes Visit To College Campus

Dr. W. W. Carpenter and his class in college administration from the University of Missouri visited the College recently.

Robert P. Foster, registrar of the College, is a member of the class. He is completing work on his doctor's degree at Missouri University.

President J. W. Jones and other members of the administrative staff met with the group.

Dr. Carpenter and the twelve doctoral students also visited the junior colleges at Kansas City and St. Joseph.

Music Department Organizes New Concert Band To Replace Fall Marching Band

As of Monday, November 10, the marching band ceased and concert band practice began.

Concert band meets every Monday and Wednesday from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m. It consists of all of the present marching band members who wish to participate in concert band, and any other college students who are interested and who play an instrument for which there is a need.

There is a demand for clarinets, of which an unlimited number will be used. Other instruments needed in the band are from two to four flutes, one E-flat alto clarinet, one or two saxophones, two to three French horns, and one E-flat soprano clarinet.

Players Need Not Major in Music There is a misconception that band is strictly for music majors. Some of the best players have majors other than music. No audition will be involved provided the student is willing to play the chair assigned by the director.

Later, auditions for the principal chairs will be held but no one is obligated to audition. Any student who played in a high school band is capable of being in the college band. Also, if a student has a conflicting schedule, he will be permitted to attend rehearsals when possible for the first semester.

Students May Still Join Band

Any student interested in joining concert band should contact Mr. Earle Moss and bring his instrument to rehearsal, because it still isn't too late to join. Everyone who plays an instrument, especially a woodwind instrument, is urged to join the concert band.

Activities for concert band next semester will include a band tour, a concert on campus, and a radio broadcast. Mr. Moss is also going to try to make it possible for each band member to get a recording of the band for his own collection.

VA Ruling Affects Veterans Training In This Locality

About 16,000 veterans in this area may be affected by a new ruling by the Veterans Administration which will allow Korean veterans who dropped out of GI training to resume their education.

Dr. O. Myking Mehus, Chief of the Vocational Rehabilitation and Education Division of the Kansas City Veterans Administration Regional Office, made this report while he was on the campus recently to confer with President J. W. Jones and Registrar R. P. Foster in regard to the training of veterans.

Cut-off date for starting GI training occurs three years from the discharge from the armed forces. Once that date passes, a veteran in training under the Korean GI Bill is allowed by law to interrupt his studies for up to twelve months without needing VA approval. If he interrupts longer than that, he may resume training only if he can show the VA that the interruption in excess of 12 months was due to reasons beyond his control.

Mehus explained that the VA's new ruling amounts to a liberalization of what the VA will consider to be reasons beyond a veteran's control.

There are 221 veterans in attendance at the College this semester.

College Has Used New Testing Series For '58 Freshmen

This year for the first time, the College has used a new series of tests for entering freshmen. These tests are products of the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, New Jersey. This is a non-profit organization which works through the year to develop better and more efficient testing systems.

According to Dean Charles E. Koerble, there are two basic types of tests in this system. The first is the SCAT test, or the School and College Ability Tests, which shows the pupil's probable chances for success in college. The second type is the STEP test—the Sequential Tests of Educational Progress. This is a series of achievement tests in writing, reading, mathematics, social science, and natural science.

Program Has Distinct Advantages

The new testing program has distinct advantages over the old, both for the administration and the freshmen. The new exams have only one answer sheet for each student—he places all answers to all tests on this one paper. These sheets then go to Iowa City to be graded.

At the university city the answer sheets are run through a machine which scans the answers by a photo-electric device. This machine is much cheaper than the old electrical impulse method.

Machine Records All

The scoring machine records each student's name and score on

Members of ACE to Construct Yuletide Toys for Noyes Home

What gladdens the heart more during a Christmas holiday than to see a child's eyes brighten at the sighting of a new toy? There is still more self-satisfaction in the knowledge that you were one of the originators and constructors of the gift.

Children of the Noyes Home in St. Joseph will be recipients of Yuletide gifts to be made tonight by the members of the Association of Childhood Education. The girls will meet in the Industrial Arts building at 7:00 p.m. and begin construction of objects such as stick horses, stuffed dolls, peg boards, tops, puppets, and jigsaw puzzles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ringold to Assist

Mr. Howard Ringold, industrial arts teacher, has graciously consented to help with the wood projects, while Mrs. Ringold will assist in the sewing and hand work. The gifts will be finished products and on display at the annual A. C. E. Christmas party Wednesday, December 10.

The idea originated last spring when the organization chose "The Need of Children" as its theme for the coming year. The Christmas toy project is the termination of the concept of "A Child's Need for Creative Expression."

Members Hope to Gain Experience

President Glenda Nichols expresses the feeling of many members in saying, "We shall be gaining worthwhile professional experience as well as development of a more wholesome feeling of true giving in completion of this work."

Seventy members of A. C. E., under the guidance of Miss Chloe Millikan and Miss Kathryn McKee, cordially invite all elementary majors to attend the meeting tonight as well as the other professional meetings of the group to be held in the near future.

Alumni Represent Their Alma Mater

President J. W. Jones has announced that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Babb represented the College at the inauguration of Dr. Glenn A. Olds as the eighth president of Springfield College, Springfield, Massachusetts, on October 31.

Dr. Jones also recently announced that Mr. Byron D. Murray represented the College at the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Convocation and Faculty Conference of the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, on November 6, 7, and 8.

Notice!

Election of two new Student Senate members from each of the four classes will be held the week of December 15. Also, a short-term seat consisting of one semester will be vacant in the sophomore class. Freshmen will choose their class officers at this same time.

Mr. Luke Boone Is New Guide of IMB During This Year

Now in operation with its own departmental head is the Instructional Materials Bureau. The ten-year-old I.M.B. is being guided by a new faculty member, Mr. Luke Boone.

I.M.B. is a service unit for both faculty and students. I.M.B.'s four main functions are furnishing the film library, projection service, and curriculum laboratory, and acting as "middle-man" between the faculty and film companies.

Contains Film Strips

The film library contains 175, 16mm films plus several film strips. These films are available to both students and faculty as well as to schools and other organizations in this area.

Eight projectionists, who have been trained by Mr. Boone, are also available to show the films.

Will Have Picture File

The curriculum laboratory contains textbooks, courses of study, and "fugitive" materials, such as pamphlets and newspaper clippings. A picture file is also being built up by the department. The material in the curriculum laboratory is available to the faculty and students.

In addition to these services, the I. M. B. department also acts as a "go-between" in obtaining audio-visual instructional materials for the faculty.

Dr. Mehus Tells Of Summer Tour During Visit Here

Dr. O. Myking Mehus, who was on the faculty here from 1928 to 1939, visited the campus recently.

While here, Dr. Mehus told of the trip he and Mrs. Mehus made to Europe last summer. They spent ten weeks abroad, during which they visited ten countries—England, France, Switzerland, Yugoslavia, Russia, Finland, Germany, Denmark, Norway, and Belgium. In the last-mentioned country they spent a day at the World's Fair.

Dr. and Mrs. Mehus spent ten days in Russia, visiting the cities of Kiev, Moscow, and Leningrad. Most of their sightseeing in Russia was done by bus during the daytime, but in the evening they were free to attend ballet, cinema, puppet shows, or the theater, all of which were free.

They also visited the 28-story University of Moscow, attended by 26,000 students—most of whom receive special aid from the government. Most freshman and sophomore students receive 75 dollars a month, and most junior, senior, and graduate students receive 125 to 175 dollars a month.

All students take entrance examinations, and, as a result, the son of the peasant has an equal chance with any other person, according to Dr. Mehus. Students study required courses.

Dr. Mehus said he was impressed by the large number of churches they saw in Russia. They attended a Wednesday evening prayer meeting at a Baptist Church in Moscow. More than 1,200 persons were in attendance.

Division Chairmen Form AAUP Panel

Seven heads of divisions presented a panel discussion on graduation requirements in their respective divisions at the monthly dinner meeting of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors, Monday evening, November 10.

Members of the panel were Dr. H. D. Peterson, chairman of health and physical education; Dr. Leon Miller, education; Dr. Frank W. Grube, language and literature; Dr. J. Gordon Strong, science and mathematics; Dr. Sterling Surrey, business; Dr. John L. Harr, social sciences; and Dr. John L. Smay, music.

The Stroller . . .

Rabbits' feet, four leaf clovers, or good luck charms were prized highly during mid-term tests which were held last week and the beginning of this week. The Stroller hopes all the students of the College were well prepared.

Quietness reigned over the campus the week-end of Halloween. The Stroller is wondering what the reason was. Did everyone go home to play Halloween pranks or to relax from the preparation for Homecoming?

It was noticed last week how busy the editor and staff members of the Tower were in directing the members of different organizations into straight lines for pictures to be taken. The Stroller is certain that the Tower will be composed well this year.

Construction of the new classroom building has interrupted the usual procedure of strolling over Sweetheart Bridge with one's best date. It is regrettable!

Student Nurse Is Queen of Ag Club

Charlotte Brown, attractive student nurse from St. Joseph, has been named 1958 Barnwarmin' Queen by members of the college Ag Club. Crowning ceremonies took place at the recent Ag Club meeting, November 3.

Miss Brown, chosen from among the twenty-six girls present for the festivities, was escorted by Charles Knorr, Ag Club president.

Other 1958 Barnwarmin' activities included square dancing, with music provided by a five-piece square dance orchestra from Blockton, Iowa; square dance calling by Mr. Forest Dowden of Maryville; and refreshments of cider and cookies.

College Initiates New Testing Series

(Continued from Page One) a long record sheet which is kept in the dean's office. Using this record, the Dean then counsels with the students, helps them make out a permanent record of their own, and explains the significance of the national norms. In a few years, the College records will be complete enough to have a set of local norms as well.

Any freshman who is interested in his test results should make an appointment with Dean Koerble's secretary as soon as possible.

Men Must Apply For Navy's ROTC During This Week

According to VAdm. H. P. Smith, Chief of Naval Personnel, the high school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 have only until November 15 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps, better known as the NROTC.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit.

All tuition, fees, and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps.

Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on December 13 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman. Application forms are available from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

Twenty Years Ago

Twenty years ago today, November 12, 1938, there were numerous happenings of interest taking place on the campus which may be merely interesting to some, but bring back memories for others. Here are a few items:

The Bearcats climbed another rung of the ladder to the Conference Championship by defeating the Mules 13-0 despite adverse weather conditions. The victory brought the Bearcats the honor of being one of the 27 undefeated, untied teams of the nation. (They later won the championship).

Miss Olive S. DeLuce gave a talk at Mound City on the topic "Modern European Problems."

Gamma Chapter of Sigma Mu Delta fraternity held its annual Dad's Dinner with Mr. Sterling Surrey as toastmaster for the evening.

Managers of a local restaurant advertised that they would take four picture poses for the sum of $1.00. Ah, for the good old days.

Look Into the Future . . .

Delegates to the General Assembly of the United Nations sit glued to their earphones, hearing nothing but the voices of their interpreters. How much meaning is lost in interpretation? How many arguments could be solved if the delegates could easily understand each other? A fantastically high number, if the statisticians are right.

A universal language could be the answer, but many thinkers suggest that more and more individuals learn to speak and understand a second or even a third language.

One difference between wise men and fools is that wise men understand all the things that fools only think they understand.

Language study is a good way to develop universal understanding. Through the language and literature of a people, their entire culture and history can be understood.

Perhaps through this type of endeavor, today's students—who must live in tomorrow's world—can promote happier and more peaceful relations among their fellow men.

They're Talking About . . .

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT . . . early arrival of some mid-term exams . . . correlation between cramming for mid-terms and insomnia . . . broad victory smiles displayed by Young Democrats . . . Republican stiff upper-lips . . . chilly weather and antifreeze . . . for cars, that is . . .

Art Club Members View Tulip Time At Recent Meeting

Members of the Art Club held their regular meeting on November 5 in the Art Department lounge. Slides and a film of the annual Tulip Time Festival in Pella, Iowa, made up the program.

Slides and film were furnished by Ronald Rinehart of the art department.

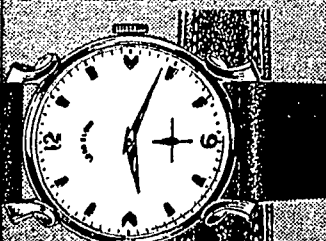

Dave Vos, a guest at the meeting, narrated the slides and film. Since he has worked in Pella for several years during Tulip Time, Dave was able to present interesting facts about the festival.

These facts included giving reasons for the various costumes and analyzing the coronation and other ceremonies which take place in Pella each year.

Seven Lettermen Strengthen 'Cat Cagers

Returning Lettermen to Lead Bearcats in Basketball Season

Back to strengthen the Bearcat basketball team are seven returning lettermen consisting of two seniors, three juniors and two sophomores. They will form the nucleus of this year's squad in their coming season which starts on December 1, their first game with Nebraska University, at Lincoln. Below is a thumbnail sketch of each man.

Ed Kavanaugh is a junior from Hamilton. He is majoring in chemistry with a minor in mathematics, working toward a B.S. degree in education. He is a member of the M Club and is an active in Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. He plays forward on the team.

Leland Jackson, while majoring in chemistry with a minor in mathematics, has been an active in Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity and a member of the M Club. He is a junior from Barnard and will be holding down the center spot again this year.

Mr. Marion Moss To Direct Cagers For Coming Season

With the basketball season just around the corner the Bearcat cagers will be directed by Mr. Marion Moss, who is starting his first year at Northwest Missouri State College as head basketball and baseball coach.

Coach Moss is from Altus, Oklahoma, where he was an outstanding high school athlete. He sacrificed an opportunity in professional baseball by enrolling at Oklahoma A & M College where he received a baseball scholarship. He lettered three years in baseball and was a student of basketball under Henry Iba while working toward a B.S. degree.

After graduating from Oklahoma A & M College in 1953 he coached two years at Indianola, Nebraska. His over-all record in all sports at Indianola High School for his two years there was 57 wins and 10 losses. This record included one state championship, two district championships and two conference championships.

He moved to Schuyler, Nebraska, for two more years and after this returned to Oklahoma State University as assistant basketball coach and completed his graduate work there in May of 1958.

Mr. Moss has been putting the basketball team through extensive practice in trying to find the potential in each player and to get each ready for the first game, December 1, with Nebraska University.

It's a rare bird indeed who doesn't care for the good taste of Coke! In fact, you might even call him an odd ball. After all, 68 million times a day somebody, somewhere, enjoys Coca-Cola. All these people just can't be wrong!
